

About Us

Last Updated Friday, 08 January 2010 23:33

Forseng Consulting helps both private and public sector organizations develop training that directly supports their goals. We design, develop, implement, and assess both in person and online offerings using proven instruction design techniques and technologies.

Moreover, we can supply advice and support in the development and deployment of training programs, learning maps, and competency tracking. We have experience in both modest programs and enterprise-wide rollouts including the use of dedicated Learning Management Systems such as PeopleSoft, SumTotal and Moodle.